

A cry for help
It's intriguing
Just how lost you can get opening yourself to others
Or how quickly people can walk through your mind
Heart
Soul
Without so much as a blink
Or with all the love possible to give Outstretched hands ready to warm the heart you've left out To hold you more steady than you ever knew you could be
